CHRIS CHRISTIE
GOVERNOR

November 15, 2011

Dear Friends:

On behalf of the State of New Jersey, I am pleased and proud to join United States Secretary of Education Arne Duncan and New Jersey Acting Commissioner of Education Christopher Cerf in extending congratulations to Holy Trinity Interparochial School for being recognized as a National Blue Ribbon School of Excellence.

This prestigious honor bestowed upon Holy Trinity Interparochial School highlights the outstanding collective achievements, supportive instruction and programs that foster each child's maximum development and potential. As one of 14 schools in New Jersey to achieve Blue Ribbon status this year, Holy Trinity has distinguished itself through its high standard of academic excellence with test scores in the top 15 percent of schools nationwide. I commend all those who have invested in the unique talents and gifts of our future generation and thank them for supporting an enriched learning environment that has helped many to thrive and shine. I applaud the administrators, staff, parents and students at Holy Trinity Interparochial School and all those who will carry and expand these endeavors into the future. They have worked hard to establish a model of excellence that other schools through our state and nation can follow.

Again, congratulations! Best wishes to all for continued success.

Sincerely,
